KRT presents The Best Christmas Pageant Ever

By Karen Hyden, reporter

If you haven't gotten into the Christmas spirit yet, there's a place in downtown Falmouth that will be sure to put you there. It's Kincaid Regional Theatre (KRT) at the Falmouth School Center in

Jail & Bail to benefit Project Grad

Project Grad 2015 will hold a Jail-and-Bail Fund-raiser at the Pendleton County/Augusta boys and girls doubleheader on Monday, December 15, at Pendleton County High School. The games begin at 6 p.m. and Jail-and-Bail arrests will continue through half-time of the second varsity game.

Names for arrests can be submitted by the general public at the cost of $5 each. That person will be arrested, and the arrested person will be held in a section of the lobby until he or she can post bail. Any number of names can be submitted, and any person can be arrested, can be a "repeat offender" and be arrested more than once.

All proceeds will benefit Project Grad 2015, so come out and join the fun for a great cause!

Falmouth and Butler hold Christmas parades

Several members of the FIREhouse Ministry in Butler carried the sign above in the Butler Parade. The teenagers are taking a stand "PC Hates Heroin." A Facebook page was started by Krissy Caldwell their message is very clear. This sign was in memory of Shane Rose. Join them and don't be listed as the next in memory. Photo by Jackie Vaughn.

The float above was designed by Kincaid Regional Theatre in Falmouth. They were chosen as the first place winner. The Christmas play this year is The Best Christmas Pageant Ever. Plan to see this delightful show. Call KRT for more info at (859) 654-2636.

Further Falmouth open house

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

The Further Falmouth Community and Wellness Center held an open house on December 7, 2014 at 707 Shelby Street. A ribbon cutting ceremony was conducted at 4 p.m. The center is scheduled to provide services beginning in January of 2015. Services to be provided by Further Falmouth include medical treatment, counseling for women and teenagers and tutoring of Southern Elementary students in kindergarten through third grade.

Before the ribbon cutting ceremony Plum Creek Christian Church Administrator and Children's Minister Jared Perkins welcomed everyone to the event. He introduced

Falmouth files for Kentucky Infrastructure Authority funding

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

Mayor Mark Hart and the Falmouth City Council held a special called meeting on December 1, 2014. Two issues were discussed. The first was the need to apply for Kentucky Infrastructure Authority (KIA) funding. The deadline to apply was December 3, 2014. Falmouth Mayor Elect Elonda Hinson and newly elected council members April DeFalco, Mary Ann Shields and Randy Bastin were in attendance of the December meeting. GRW Engineer Brad Montgomery and Pendleton County Community Development Director Bill Mitchell discussed the need for a number of projects with the city lawmakers. A motion was approved to begin the application process with KIA regarding the Reservoir Hill Water Storage Tank's need for inspection and a roof replacement. The cost of the project was estimated to be in excess of $400,000. If approved the 1% loan money from KIA

Kirsch Family Live Nativity this weekend

Start a new holiday tradition by joining the Kirsch family as they celebrate the birth of Christ with a light display and live nativity. Come and experience the true meaning of Christmas!

"And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger." Luke 2:12

The lights will be on display through New Year's Eve. The live nativity will be from 6 to 9:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 19, Saturday, Dec. 20 and Sunday, Dec. 21. There will be a camel at the nativity during the Saturday and Sunday shows.

The nativity is located on Jacobs Road off Highway 10 in northeastern Pendleton County. Admission and parking is free.

Wildcats basketball retired three jerseys

The year 2005 holds very fond memories for the Pendleton County community and fans of Wildcat Basketball. Those in attendance can remember the sea of red and black that took over Rupp Arena as they played in the Kentucky High School Athletic Association Sweet 16. They can remember the hustle, desire and effort that the Wildcats played that season with and the times the fans left the gym with smiles on their faces.

The Wildcat Basketball program retired the jerseys of three of the 2005 Wildcat team, Wildcat varsity coach Keaton Belcher, Joey Verax and Tyler Mains.

The ceremony was held on Friday, December 5, 2014 between the JV and varsity game versus Scott County.

A reception for former players, coaches and family was held in the cafeteria sponsored by the Wildcat Boys Basketball Boosters.

"We are excited to honor these three outstanding players for their accomplishments as Wildcats both individually and as part of a team," PC Athletic Director Keith Smith said. "Keaton was a matchup nightmare for opposing coaches and was driven to be the best he could be both with Pendleton County and Belmont. Joey was a scoring machine who was a key member for the success that 2005 team had."

"Tyler was a perfect point guard for the 2005 team and was extension of coach Buddy Biggs onto the court."

And set your calendars for Friday, February 6, 2014 as Wildcat basketball brings back the entire 2005 Wildcat team to honor the 10th anniversary of a 10th Region Championship.

Great gardening holiday gifts

Shopping for gardeners this holiday season? You can make their season a bit brighter by shopping with their favorite hobby in mind.

Here are a few ideas that will put a smile on the face of those green-thumbed family members and friends:

Make a Statement

Upgrade a hobby wardrobe with gear that's not only stylish, but functional too.

If your gardener is still watering, hedging, weeding and working in the yard in an old pair of beat-up sneakers, consider a pair of garden clogs designed for the specific chores associated with working in the yard or garden. Easy-to-clean and waterproof, they make a great present.

Or consider a utility apron in your gift recipient's favorite colors or pattern.

Go Bird-Friendly

No garden is complete without visits from local wildlife, such as songbirds. Help your gardener transform his or her garden into a wildlife refuge. A bird-bath and bird feeder will help attract birds and encourage them to linger in the garden longer.

Unfortunately billions of songbirds are killed worldwide each year due to accidental collisions with window glass, according to the Wilson Ornithological Society. Consider a unique gift that makes the area safer for flying friends.

Personalize

Make watering the plants a pleasure with a vintage watering can. You can add a personal touch by painting the side of the can with a unique design or your gift recipient's name. Or buy a set of planters and give them the same painting treatment.

When shopping this holiday season, don't ignore your gift recipient's hobbies and passions. There are plenty of gifts that complement the gardening lifestyle.

Be respectful of the law and others

By Glenn Mollette

Most Americans hope we never have to call the police. A call to the police usually means something bad is happening. However, we want the police if we need them. We hope that if we are in danger a policeman will be just a few moments away.

Charles Barkley is right. "Without cops, our neighborhoods would be like the wild, wild, west." Few if any Americans really want to live in towns where there is no police presence.

I've only had one irritating episode with a policeman. I was driving through a small town and crossed the yellow line. A young sheriff's deputy who obviously had nothing to do detained me for about fifteen minutes checking my registration and shining his flashlight in my truck. Finally, he was satisfied that I was not on drugs or alcohol. Most likely I had been dialing the knob on my radio when I committed the unthinkable of crossing the yellow line.

I've also been pulled over for speeding. I've had a ticket or two and deserved them. Looking back those cops may have saved my life. Sometimes a brief pull-over or interruption may save us from a catastrophe further down the road.

The recent New York City cop who choked Eric Garner to death was wrong. What happened to tasers? There were plenty of cops of top of Garner they didn't need to choke him to death. I realize there are violent criminals that warrant aggressive measures. If they had been dealing with someone posing a threat or with the Taliban or ISIS I could understand.

Does anybody remember Rodney King? Never has such a brutal beating by so many police been captured on video for all to see.

Our country is extremely troubled. We don't need psycho police proving they are big macho policeman. On the other hand the citizens of this country have to be respectful of each other and the law. We can't walk down the streets threatening the police and talking trash to them. Nor, are we in the position to resist arrest when breaking the law. The person wearing the badge and carrying the gun has the authority and is likely to react.

Wait until you find a trash can

Dear Editor,

Once again fall clean up time is here. This year Knoxville Baptist Church had seventeen members come together to clean our adopted highway, Hwy. 491. As usual we found way too many empty beer and alcohol containers and fast food wrappings. This time however had an impact on a member of our group who stated, "I am more aware now of my actions causing a mess for others and wait till I find a garbage can to clean out my car." Hopefully others will become as aware and help to keep our roads clean!

Thanks,
Deborah Collins

Drivers, please use caution

Dear Editor,

On Saturday, October 25, 2014, the Ladycats basketball team did an excellent job picking up trash on Hwy. 22 West (ten miles) and Lightfoot Fork (seven miles). there were thirteen players and six adults who joined together to help clean up a small portion of our county. They picked up around sixty three bags of garbage and ten tires. Some of the items that were picked up were cups, cans, bottles, restaurant containers and bags, gasoline cans, aerosol cans, plastic containers, liquor bottles, paper, a TV, a pet carrying cage, a faucet, and a Social Studies book.

The Ladycats basketball team is asking that our community come together and help keep Pendleton county clean. Littering is not good for our environment; it can be very harmful. This can harm our land, animals, people, and other environmental species. Properties, the side of the road, and wooded areas are not places to dump garbage and other items. Please place these things in a dumpster or use garbage cans.

Also we would like to take this opportunity to ask drivers to use caution and to drive slower when approaching individuals who are along the roadside picking up garbage. Too many drivers had approached us driving faster than they needed to be when passing us. Most of the individuals who pick up trash are young children and teenagers.

The Ladycats basketball team would like to thank the sanitation board for allowing us to give back to our community.

The Pendleton county Ladycats basketball booster would also like to thank the Ladycats for a job well done.

Sincerely,
Sharon Purdy

A perfect funeral

I cry a lot. But, I am not weak. (I may have had a stroke, although I show no other symptoms.) But, when it comes to matters of faith or family or friends or children or older persons or persons who suffer, I am easily touched and tears can flow unabashed. Therefore, when Janice and I attended the funeral of Dollie Robinson, I was a sitting target for a wash job!

Janice and I arrived shortly before 1:00 PM at People's, viewed Dollie who looked great and peaceful and found our seats about halfway back with George Hornbeek and Mrs. Clara Howard and her daughter, Michelle. The crowd was large for a daytime funeral with most every seat taken.

The soft background music ceased and a quiet settled on the crowd. Then, a rich baritone from behind us sang "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow." It was so well done that I thought for a moment that it was canned; I turned slightly in my chair to see and saw the soloist in person; I learned later that he was the son-in-law of Dollie and Milton. Donna, a granddaughter, read the obituary flawlessly and with consummate composure and the same soloist began "Because He Lives." I was dry eyed until the last stanza: And then one day, I'll cross the river I'll fight life's final war with pain. And then as death gives way to victory, I'll see the lights of Glory, And I'll know He lives!

My tears began to flow; tears neither of grief nor sadness but of joy and beauty and fulfillment! I thought of Edgar Allan Poe's notion that God is our Oversoul and we splinter from Him at birth and are reunited with Him at death; that this Reunion is why we cry for joy when a saint of His passes on!

Then Jesse Henderson took the stand. Jesse's forte as a minister is funerals. He mixes Scripture and grief and joy and humor and anecdotes and poetry exquisitely in a nice blend that leaves attendees with sadness that is overwhelmed by goodness in the land of the living. And I have never heard him do better!

He said, "I want you to remember Dollie before Parkinson's. She suffered severely from this cruel disease, but she has left a legacy for eternity. I desire that:

- *you remember her for her sharpness, not her sickness;
- *her promptness, not her slowness;
- *her attention to detail, not a frail dragging body;
- *her mental discipline, not her physical impairments;
- *her spiritual strength and insights; not her ebbing flow and loss of control;
- *that she has shuffled off her mortal coil and put on immortality;
- *her labor has not been in vain.

Jesse then likened her to the woman in Proverbs, chapter 31: She was of noble character...she had the full confidence of her husband...she does good...she works with her hands...she provides for her family...she multitasks...she works after nightfall...she helps the poor...she helps the needy...she is filled with strength...she speaks wisdom...her children praise her...she fears the Lord...she deserves a reward...she is to be praised!

Then Jesse spoke of the Devotion that she and Milton had for each other during 64 years of marriage; how that the last time he had seen her was Friday and she lay there with Milton rubbing her arm...no talk...but communication beyond words...until death do us part!

(I thought of my Father who suffered from this same disease for 27 years, and how my Mother had cared for him like a baby! And tears flowed again!)

Devotion to family: A poem by Henry Van Dyke captures the spirit of Dollie in her devotion to her family: excerpted from What Makes a Home?

You'll find, where're you roam
That marbled floors and gilded walls
Can never make a home.
But every house where Love abides
And Friendship is a guest,
Is surely home, and home sweet home;
For there the heart can rest.

And not just for her children; she also made a home for David Racke for several years; he was a missionary's child.

She spread the word that their farm and their home were open and welcome to all who would read and enter.

She was Dedicated to Service at Eastside Church of Christ: Treasurer for many years...Beautiful, meticulous handwriting...Daily Vacation Bible School with paste, paint and glitter...Plaster of Paris molds...Camp Northward...Bible Bowl...Banquets ...Youth Rally Host...Get well cards...Birthday cards!

Then, perhaps the most revealing point that Jesse made concerning the blessing of the departed: The influence for service on her children...Cathy served Eastside and Camp Northward...John serves churches as a minister while Marsha, his wife, serves children in a church school...Carolyn serves clients in social work in Indiana while her husband serves churches...And, it was he, David Honeycutt, who sang the songs at the funeral.

The good that Dollie Racke Robinson wrought lives on after her and her influence is felt all the way to Sioux City, Iowa and to Vermont, Illinois.

Jesse closed with I'm Free. By unknown.

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free, I'm following the path God has laid, you see. I took His hand when I heard Him call, I turned my back and left it all. I could not stay another day, to laugh, to love, to work, to play. Tasks left undone must stay that way, I found that peace at the close of day. If my parting has left a void, then fill it with remembered joy.

A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, oh yes, these things, too, I'll miss. Be not burdened with times of sorrow, I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow, My life's been full; I savored much, good friends, good times, a loved one's touch. Perhaps my time seemed all too brief, don't lengthen it with undue grief, Lift up your hearts and peace to thee, God wanted me now; He set me free!"

As we filed past the family, shaking their hands and those of Jesse, I was still sniffing! I thought, "She has been set free; like a bird from prison bars, she has flown to her Master." I kept my head down as I shook the family's hands, for I did not want them to see a grown man cry even though they were tears of Joy and Victory and Healing and Glory and Heaven!

Wish someone a Happy Birthday!

The Falmouth Outlook will be publishing birthdays in a special column on the Society page of the newspaper each week. The person's name and birth date will be printed as such: John Smith, age, birth date.

Once that person's birthday is published it will not be kept for the next year. If you want it in again you will need to resubmit.

The deadline for birthday listings is 10 a.m. on Thursdays.

Miss Pre-Teen United States Haven Wolfe continues to do her part for charity. She recently held a journal drive for the Ronald McDonald House and is now working on a gift card drive.

"Not just a pretty face"

Wolfe holds drives for Ronald McDonald House

Miss Pre-Teen United States Haven Wolfe visited the Ronald McDonald House on Saturday, October 25 in Cincinnati. During the visit she delivered over 200 journals and 300 ink pens. They will use the journals and pens in welcome bags they present to families when they arrive at the Ronald McDonald House.

Haven is very grateful to the many people who helped with the journal and pen drive. With the assistance of the community, she was able to make a difference for others. She felt it was the perfect way to spend her 13th birthday!

Haven has grown close to a number of the families and children at the Ronald McDonald House. Many are there long term and have been for quite awhile, some up to the length of a year. That's a long time to be away from home so Haven enjoys visiting and playing with the kids whenever she goes.

The kind-hearted teen also did a "snack night" on Sunday, November 9 at the Ronald McDonald House. She had a lot of fun preparing fruit, trail mix and treats for the families that evening. Haven also welcomed the chance to play the piano for them while she was there.

Now that the journal drive has ended, Haven has started a gift card drive for the families who will be at the Ronald McDonald House through the holidays. She asks that if you have room in your heart for one more child and enough space on your Christmas list for another present that you would consider buying a gift card of any amount from a retailer to donate to the gift card drive.

For more information or if you would like to donate a gift card to the drive, you can contact Haven through her Facebook page, Miss Pre-Teen United States, or you can email her at mwolfe136@gmail.com. You can also "like" her Facebook page to continue to follow her journey as Miss Pre-Teen United States.

Haven would like to thank everyone who has supported her in so many ways and she is grateful to have the opportunity to represent the community and the state as a national title holder.

First Lady Jane Beshear Celebrates “Give a Gift Made in Kentucky” Month

First Lady Jane Beshear joined Kentucky artists, officials, arts patrons and the public in a celebration today at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea. The event recognized the creative works being made by Kentucky’s talented artists and announced Governor Steve Beshear’s proclamation of December 2014, as “Give a Gift Made in Kentucky” month.

“I encourage everyone to purchase Kentucky-made gifts this holiday season,” Mrs. Beshear said. “Kentuckians can find unique, quality gifts for anyone on their list, because all across the Commonwealth there are countless local shops, artist studios and businesses filled with books, food, artwork, toys and more.”

Bob Stewart, secretary of the Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet; and Victoria Faoro, executive director of the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea, also participated in the ceremony celebrating the state’s talent and encouraging everyone to “Give a Gift Made in Kentucky.” Regional artists Lindy Evans, and Donna and Donnie Smith were also on hand to contribute to the celebration by demonstrating their sculpted Santas and painted gourd ornaments.

Berea, known as the “Folk Arts and Crafts Capital of Kentucky,” offers a wide variety of craftsmen studios, galleries, shops and the Kentucky Artisan Center, where wonderful Kentucky-made selections can be found for that special person on your shopping list.

“There are endless opportunities to enjoy the holidays in a unique fashion when you add Kentucky-made art, craft, books, music and foods to your celebrations,” said Faoro. “We are proud to offer thousands of Kentucky-made items and to present artisan book signings, performances and demonstrations on Saturdays throughout the holiday season, to make your holiday shopping experience a truly memorable one.”

The Kentucky Unbridled Spirit Gift Card is another way to purchase Kentucky-made gifts for that hard-to-buy-for person. Gift cards are available for purchase at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea and can be used at other Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet agencies such as the Kentucky Horse Park, the Kentucky Historical Society, and at Kentucky State Parks.

This celebration event with the First Lady is part of the statewide annual holiday “Give a Gift Made in Kentucky” campaign to promote Kentucky’s art, craft, music, books, specialty foods, and more. For additional great ideas for holiday shopping, go to the Kentucky Arts Council’s Give a Gift Made in Kentucky website page.

Get vaccinated against the flu during National Influenza Vaccination Week

State public health officials are encouraging Kentuckians to get a flu vaccination during National Influenza Vaccination Week, Dec. 7-13, to reduce the spread of illness this holiday season.

“Getting a flu vaccine is an early holiday gift you can give to yourself and your family,” said Dr. Stephanie Mayfield, commissioner of the Kentucky Department for Public Health (DPH). “As the holidays approach, people will be traveling, and families will gather together, increasing the potential for exposure to the flu. We are strongly urging anyone who hasn’t received a flu vaccine, particularly those at high risk for complications related to the flu, to check with local health departments or other providers.”

Kentucky’s current flu activity level has recently increased to regional, which indicates an upturn in influenza-like illness (ILI) or outbreaks of flu and laboratory confirmed flu in regions of the state.

National Influenza Vaccination Week is a weeklong observance that serves as a reminder to those people who have not yet received a flu vaccine that the time to get vaccinated continues into winter – through January or later, when flu season typically peaks. Because it takes about two weeks for the body to develop protective antibodies against the flu following vaccination, Kentuckians who have not had a chance to be vaccinated should seek out the opportunity during this season. Vaccine supplies are considered plentiful at this time, but people are urged to call their providers or pharmacies to check on availability.

Throughout the week, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and DPH will highlight the importance of vaccinations for those people at high risk, their close contacts and all those who want to be protected against the flu. In addition, good health habits such as washing hands often with soap and warm water, avoiding touching your eyes, nose or mouth, and staying at home from work or school when sick will also be emphasized.

The best way to protect against the flu is to receive a flu vaccination. The CDC’s Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices recommends flu vaccine for all individuals 6 months of age and older. People who should especially receive the flu vaccine because they may be at higher risk for complications or negative consequences include:

- Children ages 6 months through 18 years;
- Pregnant women;
- People 50 years old or older;
- People of any age with chronic health problems;
- People who live in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities;
- Health care workers;
- Caregivers of or people who live with a person at high risk for complications from the flu; and
- Out-of-home caregivers of or people who live with children less than 6 months old.

Kentuckians should receive a new flu vaccination each season for optimal protection. Healthy, non-pregnant people ages 2 through 49 can be vaccinated with either the flu shot or the nasal vaccine spray. Children younger than 9 years old who did not receive a previous seasonal flu vaccination should receive a second dose at least four weeks after their first vaccination.

High dose flu vaccine is available for persons aged 65 years and older this year. A higher dose of antigen in the vaccine is designed to create a stronger immune response and provide better protection against the flu.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention released information this week that some of the nation’s circulating influenza A (H3N2) type viruses, the most common so far, may not be covered well by this year’s vaccine. This situation is not unusual. It is challenging to anticipate the strains that will circulate during the season, since flu vaccine is made months before the season begins. Despite the possibility of a poor vaccine match for one of the circulating strains, vaccination still provides the best protection against influenza. The vaccine appears to be a good match for many of the strains which are being transmitted, and because of antibody cross-protection, should help to reduce hospitalizations and deaths, even in persons who may contract the mismatched strain of influenza.

In addition to flu vaccine, DPH strongly encourages all adults 65 years and older and others in high risk groups to ask their health care provider about the pneumococcal vaccines. These vaccines can help prevent a type of pneumonia, one of the flu’s most serious and potentially deadly complications. The CDC now recommends that adults 65 years or older receive the pneumococcal conjugate vaccine (PCV13, Prevnar-13) in addition to the pneumococcal polysaccharide vaccine (PPSV23, PNEUMOVAX-23). Getting both vaccines offers the best protection against pneumococcal disease. Between 3,000 and 49,000 deaths are attributed to flu and pneumonia nationally each year, with more than 90 percent of those deaths occurring in people age 65 and older.

Infection with the flu virus can cause fever, headache, cough, sore throat, runny nose, sneezing and body aches. Flu is a very contagious disease caused by the flu virus, which spreads from person to person. For more information on influenza or the availability of flu vaccine, please contact your local health department or visit <http://healthalerts.ky.gov>.

Rumpke offers job training programs

Rumpke Waste & Recycling is currently hiring for several driving positions, and while many positions require a CDL, Rumpke encourages those without to still apply.

Rumpke offers a training program to help motivated employees earn their commercial driver’s license.

“Nationwide, there is a shortage of individuals with commercial driver’s license,” said Anita Meiman, human resources manager, Rumpke. “Drivers are the foundation of our business. We are willing to make an investment in training an employee if they are willing to make a commitment to our company.”

Individuals interested in becoming a Rumpke driver who don’t currently have a CDL can apply to be a driver trainee. Driver trainees assist CDL drivers with their collection routes while also participating in weekly trainings to obtain their CDLs.

Driver trainees are required to obtain their CDL within 120 days of being hired.

According to Meiman, Rumpke offers many jobs in a growing, stable industry.

“We are a family company that offers competitive pay and great benefits,” Meiman said. “Our Company prides itself on being a great place to work. It’s not easy, but we have year round work, offer overtime, and a place you can grow and advance.”

In addition to CDL driving positions, Rumpke is also hiring diesel mechanics.

“We also offer on the job training for mechanics,” said Meiman. “However, we do require them to have some basic knowledge of how to work on vehicles.”

To learn more about Rumpke career opportunities, or to apply for a position at Rumpke, visit www.rumpke.com.

Rumpke Waste & Recycling has been committed to keeping neighborhoods and businesses clean and green since 1932 by providing environment friendly waste disposal solutions. Rumpke is one of the nation’s largest privately owned residential and commercial waste and recycling firms, providing service to areas of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia. Rumpke divisions include Rumpke Recycling, Rumpke Portable Restrooms, The William-Thomas Group, and Rumpke Hydraulics. For more information, visit www.rumpke.com.

BBB’s December 2014 hot topics

1. Local consumers are complaining to BBB that they are getting harassed by scammers who are calling, posing as IRS Employees. The scammers say the consumer owes on taxes, and will be arrested if they don’t pay immediately. They are trying to get personal/payment information.

2. Be careful purchasing items on Craigslist! A local consumer lost $2500 on a motorcycle, after the “seller” asked him to use Green Dot MoneyPak cards to make an upfront payment for the bike.

3. Beware of a Fake Email from Walmart congratulating you for winning a new iPhone6. The email states the “lucky winner’s” email was chosen from millions in the store’s database. However, the winner is asked to pay for shipping and insurance by going to a website. This is a scam!

4. If you get an email or pop-up from Netflix, be careful. It could be a scam! Scammers are luring customers to fake log-in pages, claiming the customer’s account has been temporarily suspended, followed by a 1-800 number to call. The scammer, who pretends to be with Netflix support, wants remote access to your computer. The scammer then asks for the customer’s credit card information for payment.

5. Fake Order Confirmations are going out to shoppers! They look authentic, with purchase confirmations that appear to be from Walmart, Target, Costco, and others. The scammers are trying to lure the consumers to their fake website, where a malware-infested .zip file is automatically downloaded to their computer.

6. Beware of a Free Pizza email from Pizza Hut! The email claims the pizza chain is celebrating its 55th anniversary by offering customers a free pizza. All you need to do is download the attached coupon and bring it to the restaurant. Don’t do it! It’s malware!

7. Don’t fall for Publishers Clearinghouse scams! Scammers call, posing as the real company, saying you have won a prize. They say that to get your winnings, you must pay upfront fees. Don’t do it!

8. Beware of Delivery Scams during the holidays! Scammers send an email that appears to be from UPS or FedEx, saying you need to pick up a package. It asks you to click on a link or to download a form for more information. It eventually leads to identity theft.

9. ECards are a popular way to send a holiday greeting, but some are malicious, containing spyware or viruses that download onto your computer. Only open e-cards from a trusted source, and even that can be questionable. You may not want to open them at all – until you confirm the actual source!

10. If you receive an email selling a “Handwritten letter from Santa to Your Child,” you’d better think twice! It could be a scam! One email that encourages parents to buy a special Santa package for $19.99, takes you to a fake website, where your personal information could be compromised.

Bergman joins KHEAA as outreach counselor

Falmouth native John Bergman has joined the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) as an outreach counselor helping students and families in southwestern Kentucky. He will represent KHEAA in Butler, Christian, Logan, Muhlenberg, Simpson, Todd and Warren counties.

"I am very excited about this great new opportunity. I look forward to working with all the students, families and communities in my region," said Bergman. "I hope to help students strive for success and become well aware of what college has to offer them."

In addition to schools, Bergman will work with adult education centers, state agencies and other groups. He can be reached at jbergman@kheaa.com or 270-392-8675.

"John's experience as a near-peer advisor in the Kentucky College Coaches Program makes him a perfect addition to our team," KHEAA Director of Outreach Services Susan Hopkins said. "His work with students, families and school administrators will help us spread the message that higher education is, indeed, accessible to all Kentuckians."

Bergman has a bachelor's in history and political science from Thomas More

JOHN BERGMAN

College and a master's in history from Western Kentucky University. Before joining KHEAA, he was the coordinator of college coaches for the Kentucky Campus Compact.

He is the son of John Bergman Sr. and Linda Bergman of Falmouth.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES), need-based grants and other programs to help students pay their higher education expenses.

FFA holds Creed Contest

Pendleton County FFA recently held its annual Greenhand Ceremony and Creed Contest. Sixty students met the requirements to receive their greenhand degrees. Fifty students were present at the ceremony and participated in the Creed Speaking Contest. Six students were selected to compete on stage for the final round of the contest. Those six students were Jenna Gosney, Sarah Reid, Kaytlin Hahn, Luke Bowen, Garrad Dennie, and Tessa Bowling. Kaytlin Hahn received third place, Luke Bowen received second place, and Sarah Reid was awarded first place and will go on to represent Pendleton County at the regional contest this spring. She was also awarded an official FFA jacket, donated by the Pendleton County FFA Alumni. Pendleton County FFA is pleased to officially add the names of sixty new members to their FFA Chapter. Federal government offers student loan forgiveness

The federal government may forgive all or part of your student loans if you meet certain requirements. The forgiveness options for federal student loans, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA), include:

- Teacher loan forgiveness. To qualify, you must teach at least five full years in a low-income school in an eligible district. Depending on your field, you may have up to $17,500 in student loans forgiven.
- Public service loan forgiveness. You must work full time in a public service job and make 120 monthly payments to qualify. You also have to be working in public service when you make the 120 payments and when you apply for loan forgiveness. All of your remaining loan balance may be forgiven.
- Nursing loan forgiveness. You must be at least a registered nurse and agree to work two years in a critical shortage facility at least 32 hours per week. If you fulfill your agreement, 60 percent of your loan balance will be forgiven. Another 25 percent will be forgiven if you work a third year.

For complete details on these and other programs, visit www.ed.gov.

One thing to remember is that the Internal Revenue Service counts the amount forgiven as income. You should talk with a tax professional to understand the impact that may have on your taxes.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). It provides financial literacy videos at <http://its-money.kheaa.com>. KHEAA also provides free copies of "It's Money, Baby," a guide to financial literacy, to Kentucky schools and residents upon request at publications@kheaa.com.

Scholarships for agricultural and natural resource students

Attention all agricultural and natural resource students! The Kentucky Bluegrass Chapter of Soil and Water Conservation Society (SWCS) will present the $1,000 Bailey/Zimmerman Scholarship and $1,000 Kentucky Bluegrass Chapter Scholarship on the evening of January 9. Students eligible are undergraduate agriculture or natural resource students enrolled in a college or university in the KY Bluegrass Chapter region during the fall of 2014. Current high school students taking college credits are not eligible.

The Bailey-Zimmerman Scholarship is in honor of Dr. Harry Hudson (Hank) Bailey (1990) and William (Bill) Zimmerman (1994) for their contributions and service to the SWCS Bluegrass Chapter. In addition, to being an active member in SWCS, Dr. Bailey was also a member in several other professional organizations including agronomy, soil science, and agricultural societies, both national and international. In 1986, after 31 years of service, Dr. Bailey retired from the University of Kentucky as Emeritus Professor of Agronomy. Bill Zimmerman was a past Bluegrass Chapter President (active in SWCS at the local, state, and national level). He retired from Soil Conservation Service, worked with the Kentucky Division of Conservation, and was a conservation district supervisor. In offering this memorial scholarship, the members of the KY Bluegrass Chapter of SWCS realize and appreciate their achievements and years of dedicated service to agriculture and natural resource conservation. The KY Bluegrass Chapter Conservation Scholarship is given by the chapter to further the student's education and enhance their opportunities to positively affect the conservation ethic.

Scholarship winners will need to attend (or send a representative) the KY Bluegrass SWCS Winter Meeting at 6 p.m. on Friday, January 9 at the Franklin County Extension Office. Applications must be post marked no later than December 26, 2014. Additional information may be received by contacting: Danny Hughes 606-306-7398 or Danny.Hughes@ky.usda.gov.

If you would like an application, they are available at the Pendleton County Conservation District, 814 US 27 South, (USDA Service Center) Falmouth, Ky. or by calling 859-654-2276, ext 3.

CheerCats advance to State

The winter sports seasons start each November or December and the ball is tipped off, arrows start flying and alleys are full in the local bowling centers. And as sure as those things are happening, the Pendleton CheerCats advancing to the Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA) State Competitive Cheerleading Meet is becoming an almost guarantee. KHSAA has held three state cheerleading championships and the CheerCats have competed in all three of them.

They will advance for the third year in a row. The second year in a row as a coed squad and the third time as a coed squad with the first being in 1998 when the event was still under the auspices of Kentucky Association of Pep Organization Sponsors (KAPOS). It is their fifth 10th Region title in the last seven years.

Held at Pendleton County High School on Saturday, November 15th, the CheerCats got the opportunity to host the 10th Region Cheer Competition and perform in front of their home fans.

"I'm very proud to have hosted Regionals in our gym for the first time ever. Given that event and the yearly CheerCats Cup on January 3 this year, I think we are more widely recognized as a school that supports and hosts great cheer events." CheerCat coach Kelley Carlisle pointed out.

With Pendleton County being the only 10th Region school that has been successfully in recruiting males to the mats and providing them the opportunity to compete at the high school level as well as for scholarship opportunities, the CheerCats had to perform their routine and stay away from any mistakes that would have disqualified them.

This year posed different challenges for the CheerCats.

"Some seasons it's a challenge just to get a routine on the mat by regionals, and this season has been one of those seasons. We've faced disappointments and I'm very proud of how the team has responded to those," coach Carlisle commented.

The CheerCats will be pushed by strong teams from Bullitt East, Owensboro, Madison Southern, and Hopkins County Central at state.

Competitive cheerleading is unlike other sports where the scoreboard reads 0-0 at the start of the competition and everybody is on the same playing field. Based on the degree of difficulty of the skills executed in the team's routine, another school could have a 10-point or more head start before the first cheerleader takes the mat.

CheerCat assistant coach Bradie Griffin says, "We've battled injuries and re-work and given that, we know we have a lot of work to do to rank with the top teams in the state. We are excited about that challenge and the next few weeks will be important."

The young CheerCats with no seniors on the mat will continue to improve those skills throughout the offseason in open mats and gymnastic lessons as they continue to build a program that continues to hang 10th Region banners.

The CheerCats will take the mat and look to put themselves in the KHSAA Coed Championship mix at 6:20 on Saturday, December 13 in the Ky Horse Park AllTech Arena.

Ladycats down Williamstown in overtime

With members of the 1994 and 1995 38th District Back to Back Champion Ladycat teams in attendance, the 2014-15 present day team pulled off the overtime victory, 82-75, to pick up their first win of the season.

Pendleton County trailed by three with just seconds in the game but Senior McKayla Manor pulled up from three feet behind the top of the key and nailed her second 3-pointer of the game. She went 8 of her 13 points in the 4th quarter and overtime.

That tied the score at 72. The Cats defense would stiffen in overtime and they easily outscored Williamstown 10-3.

The scorebook shows what has been a pleasant trend for Pendleton early on, balanced scoring from multiple sources. Five Ladycats were in double figures led by McKayla Bishop with 17, Amberly Burdy with 16, Isabella Hall and Manor with 13, and Bailey Wanstrath with 11.

After falling behind early in the 3rd quarter, Amberly Purdy took over for the Cats as she scored 13 points in the 2nd half. Isabella Hall was key down the stretch and overtime as she hit seven free throws.

Earlier in the week, Pendleton fell to Grant County in another high scoring game 72-63. McKayla Bishop led the Ladycats with 21 points and Amberly Purdy tallied 16 despite foul trouble. McK-ayla Manor was also in double digits with 10.

Bracken County held it's early season mastery over Pendleton with a 76-56 victory with McKayla Bishop scoring 19 on 9 of 11 shooting. McKayla Manor continued her good shooting with 13 and Isabella Hall had 12.

The Bracken County game was competitive for three quarters but used a 26-17 run in the 4th to blow open the game.

Wildcats drop three straight

By Sam McClanahan, Reporter

The Pendleton County Wildcats opened its season last week with three lopsided defeats but head coach Keaton Belcher is optimistic that improvements can be made and a rough start will not define his teams' season.

"I was pleased with our effort in all three games," said the first-year coach. By design, we played a very difficult schedule last week. I wanted our players to see great defensive pressure to prepare us throughout the season. Playing three great teams early will only help us in the long run," said Belcher.

The Cats season began with a road matchup against Covington Scott last Wednesday, Dec. 3. The Eagles pulled away in the second half to claim a 85-67 victory. The Cats shot 19 of 49 from the field (39%) and connected on seven of 22 three-point attempts. Sophomore Michael Antrobus led the way with a team-high 18 points. Senior Hunter Lea pulled down 13 rebounds while junior Darell Pugh and eighth grader Dontae Allen each chipped in with 12 points apiece.

Last Friday, the Cats welcomed in last season's state runner-up and perennial powerhouse Scott County. Before the start of the varsity game, a ceremony was held to honor and recognize the retirement of three standout player's jersey's who helped lead the Wildcats to a regional title as well as state tournament berth in coach Belcher, Joey Verax and Tyler Mains. The ceremony comes nearly 10 years after that magical run that captured the attention of hoops fans all around the Commonwealth.

"It was an honor to have my jersey retired at PCHS. It's a special feeling to know that my jersey will be hung in the rafters forever. It says a lot about our 2005 team that three of our five starters' numbers are being retired," Belcher said.

After falling behind 21-9 at the end of the first quarter, the Cats put together a strong second eight minutes to trail the heavily-favored Cardinals 42-27 at the half.

In the second half, Scott County's stingy defensive pressure and superior size and athleticism proved to be the difference as the Cardinals pulled away to an 89-56 win. Michael Antrobus led the Cats with 12 points and Dontae Allen added 10. Pendleton County shot just 16 of 48 from the field (33%).

The opening week concluded last Saturday, Dec. 13, as the Cats traveled south to face George Rogers Clark. A sluggish start found the 'Cats playing from behind for the duration of the contest. Poor shooting by Pendleton County allowed GRC to race out to a double-digit lead that it would not surrender. GRC came away with a 67-46 win dropping the Cats to 0-3. Michael Antrobus was the lone Wildcat to reach double-figures with 12 points. Hunter Lea scored six points and grabbed a team-high 10 rebounds.

"I am disappointed in our lack of rebounding at times. It's something we practice on a daily basis, but we must continue to improve boxing out consistently. We have already shown signs that we can be a very good basketball team," concluded Belcher.

This week, the Wildcats will play a pair of road games both slated to tip-off at 7:30 p.m. The team will square off against Lloyd on December 9 and Saturday, December 13 they will travel to face off against Nicholas County.

Pendleton Bowling team falls to Camels

One of the top teams in the state each year for both girls and boys, Pendleton County Bowling knew they had a tough match against Campbell County.

While they fell in the overall match, they had a strong second Baker's game being nipped by a single pin, 145-144.

In the first singles match, sophomore Chyann Utz and senior Mikalla Thomas were the high Ladycats. Kendall Carr had the best round of the night for the Ladycats with a 132 in the second 10-frame game.

"Kendall keeps showing a lot of potential with another 132 game," coach Gary Polley said about his sophomore newcomer.

On the Wildcat side, senior Jonah Smith had his personal high for the season with a 175 in the first game. Fellow senior Caleb Vanorio had a strong game with a 145 while 6th grader Trevor Colvin posted a 139.

In the second game, Trevor kept up the consistency with a 155, while Dalton Hill bowled a strong 156 and Jonah posted a nice 142. Ian West posted his personal high in his first season with a 132.

"Jonah lead the way for the boys and had a really good week," coach Polley commented on his Wildcat team. "Some of our newcomers are starting to come along pretty well."

Mayor Hart told the council members that because of the city's debt and the future imposition of unfunded mandates from the state and federal governments raising Falmouth's sewer and water rates would be inescapable.

The second issue concerned the Pizza Factory renovation project. After a close inspection of the structure it was revealed that the flooring required total replacement. Mayor Hart estimated that the cost of the repair could exceed $30,000.

One in seven Kentuckians receive assistance from a food bank each year

One in seven Kentuckians, or more than 600,000 people, stand in the state's emergency food lines each year, according to a new study released today by the Kentucky Association of Food Banks. Kentucky data from Feeding America's Hunger in America 2014 report, available once every four years, was the subject of an event held last evening at the Life Learning Center in Covington that included state and local hunger and poverty advocates.

"The Hunger in Kentucky 2014 study reveals alarming data about the reality that many Kentuckians face," said Tamara Sandberg, executive director of the association. "It is clear that recovery from the Great Recession has not yet reached the hundreds of thousands of Kentuckians who remain food insecure."

Some of the key findings of the study are the following:

- Each year, an estimated 611,100 individuals, or 209,300 households, receive food assistance through Kentucky's emergency food network.
- Food bank clients are reached through food distributions 3,560,000 times each year.
- In the past year, 91 percent of households purchased inexpensive, unhealthy food as a coping strategy.
- Sixty-seven percent had to choose between paying for food and utilities.

Demographic makeup of households served.

Of the 611,100 Kentuckians served by the food bank network each year, 75 percent of client households have incomes that fall at or below the federal poverty level. The median annual income of households served is $9,150. Twenty-eight percent of individuals served are children and 20 percent are seniors age 60 or older. Sixteen percent of client households include grandparents who have responsibility for grandchildren who live with them. Fifty-three percent of clients are female and 47 percent are male.

- In addition:
- Thirty-five percent of households have a member who had worked for pay in the last 12 months. Of those households, 30 percent had worked 20 hours per week or less.
 - Nearly 33 percent of all households have a member with at least some education beyond high school.
 - Ninety-six percent of households live in nontemporary housing, such as a house or apartment.

Coping strategies and long-term health implications.

The study reveals that purchasing inexpensive, unhealthy foods or even watering down food and drinks are common strategies that directly impact health and nutrition.

Specifically, the study found that in an effort to make ends meet, Kentuckians have used the following coping strategies in the past year:

- Ninety-one percent purchased inexpensive, unhealthy food.
- Sixty-one percent purchased food in dented or damaged packages.
- Fifty-eight percent ate food past the expiration date.
- Fifty-one percent received help from family and friends.
- Forty percent sold or pawned personal property.
- Thirty-seven percent watered down food to make it stretch farther.

Eighty-three percent of households reported using more than one of these strategies in the past twelve months.

Kentucky households are forced to make tough decisions regarding spending tradeoffs due to tight budgets. In the past year, Kentuckians have had to choose between the following:

- Sixty-nine percent had to choose between food and medicine or medical care.
- Sixty-seven percent had to choose between food and utilities.
- Sixty-three percent had to choose between food and transportation.
- Fifty-one percent had to choose between food and rent or mortgage.

The study reveals that the coping strategies and spending tradeoffs have a lasting impact on household health status. In the past year:

- Thirty-two percent of households have at least one member who is in poor health.
- Sixty-five percent have at least one member with high blood pressure.
- Forty-one percent have at least one member with diabetes.
- Sixty-four percent have unpaid medical bills.

"A hunger-free Kentucky is possible, but this study confirms that food banks can't do it alone," said Sandberg. "We are no longer just an emergency food network

- our clients are facing chronic needs. Solving hunger in Kentucky will require strengthened partnerships within both public and private sectors. That's why we are so grateful for the state appropriation for hunger relief in the current state budget."

Included in the 2015-16 state budget is $1.2 million for the Farms to Food Banks program, which increases access to healthful fresh produce among struggling Kentucky families while providing an expanded market for Kentucky farmers. As a result of the funding, over 3 million pounds of Kentucky-grown produce has been distributed through food banks so far in 2014.

"The Hunger in Kentucky 2014 findings should be a call to action for everyone," said Sandberg. "The study demonstrates the urgent need for all of us as individuals, policy makers and industry leaders to address hunger in our communities. Together we can solve hunger in Kentucky."

Hunger in Kentucky 2014 is part of the quadrennial Hunger in America series, the most comprehensive examination of hunger in the United States. Study results are based on nationally representative surveys of agencies that operate food programs in the charitable food assistance network supported by Feeding America and of clients that access services through that network. The study was peer-reviewed by a technical advisory team including researchers from American University, University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana and the Urban Institute. The Hunger in Kentucky 2014 report is available here: kafb.org/hunger.

About the Kentucky Association of Food Banks

The Kentucky Association of Food Banks is Kentucky's largest charitable response to hunger, representing Kentucky's 7 regional Feeding America food banks (Dare to Care Food Bank; Facing Hunger Foodbank; Feeding America, Kentucky's Heartland; Freestore Foodbank; God's Pantry Food Bank; Purchase Area Development District; and Tri-State Food Bank) and over 800 member charities including food pantries, soup kitchens and shelters. In SFY 2014 its members distributed the equivalent of 50 million meals to 1 in 7 Kentuckians across the commonwealth.

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $35,340.33 together with interest at the rate of 6.375 percent per annum from July 2, 2014 until paid; plus late charges, advances for taxes and insurance, and Plaintiff's costs herein expended, including a reasonable attorney fee in the amount of $1,700 and for any other fees expended for services performed in connection with the Defendant's default and for the purposes of protecting Plaintiff's interest in the property and its rights under the Mortgage instrument.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property;
b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

didn't let that slow her down. In her first role ever, Shannon was speechless with excitement, but not on the stage as the lady running the pageant from her hospital bed. Well sort of.

Once the Herdman children came on the scene seemingly no one was in charge. Two totally different worlds collide and the story of Jesus' birth is suddenly seen through the eyes of these rough and ready ragamuffins. Showing that Jesus truly came for everyone. The unexpected pageant presentation not only brings and education to the Herdman children but to all those involved.

An added treat for the evening was a presentation by the cast, following the KRT production, with a rendition of their favorite Christmas songs. Ole Saint Nick himself made a special appearance dancing along to the music. Donald Knox and Madison performed a beautiful duet while Brett Price and David Bowen each gave solo numbers. A musical delight that warmed the heart and brought a joyful tear to the eye.

As always KRT brought forth the magic of taking the audience away from their reality to a different place for a brief moment in time. Whether it was to the humor of the skittish antics of Elmer Hopkins, played by Caleb Veirs, or the henpecked husband, played by Brett Price or the struggle of the Herdman kids in their desire to grasp the Christmas story it was all a work of pure pleasure.

In the words of former manager Shirley Merrill, "A lot of people think this is just a community theatre, but I think if they'd attend a performance, they'd see what we've been able to do and show the community that this is a professional theatre."

There were no amateurs on the stage in the first performance of The Best Christmas Pageant Ever, and all in all, it's an evening to make one smile and feel in the Christmas spirit anew.

RELIGION

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m.

This past Sunday Brother Dan's message was taken from Psalms 96 and titled "The joy of being thankful for God's blessings."

BUTLER BAPTIST

Brother Workman brought the message about how we can support our missionaries during this week of prayer. Why would God send missionaries? 1Tim 2:4 tells us that God wants all people saved and to know Jesus. The world is lost. God does not want one person to be lost and go to hell. We need to take the gospel message to everyone so that they come to know Jesus. God loves everyone. Salvation is for everyone. Missionaries go into the world to win the lost to God, wherever they are. Is our heart in tune with God's heart? He is concerned about salvation for all people. Are you concerned about the salvation of people? God sends us out with his message of salvation. God does not want the lost to perish. Share God's message of salvation with everyone you come in contact with and pray for our missionaries.

BUTLER METHODIST

Thanks to all who helped get us ready for the Advent season.

During the first Sunday in Advent, Jeff Dicken attached a Christmas angel to the tree in memory of his mother, Lila. The angel was given by the District U.M.W. at their conference in September.

A very nice Advent service with members participating was held with the culmination of Ken and Brenda Campbell aided by their granddaughters lighting the first Advent candle.

So glad that Pastor Brian and Beverly were able to travel to W.Va for Thanksgiving with Beverly's mother and their son Allan.

A Moravian Love Feast will be held during the morning worship hour on December 14. There will be a Christmas Eve service here at 7 p.m. All are welcome.

Please plan on coming to see the Kirsch Live Nativity the week-end before Christmas.

Please pray for Kathy Jones, the Rose family, our church, and all those hurting at this time.

Have a blessed week, see you Sunday.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

Pastor Kevin's message was titled "A Message to the Messengers" every believer is a messenger and leader in some capacity, whether at home, in the church or at work.

We need to set the standard of Christian conduct before all people and live a life that is above reproach and scandal.

One of the bad habits of a Christian is the spirit of complaining, this type of attitude will only serve to hurt the church. Many people of this world will never read the Bible, yet they will read the Christian like a book.

Before we speak, we need to ask ourselves the following questions: Are the words that I'm about to speak edifying to others? Will they build-up or tear down? Will they bring glory unto the Lord? Has the Lord sanctioned the words that I'm about to speak?

If we will learn to weigh our words carefully, we will find ourselves speaking less and listening more!

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

The Advent season is upon us - the time leading up to the celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ. Our prayer is that we all make time to remember the true meaning of the season.

Today we come seeking! We come seeking Jesus, the Christ. The message was taken from John 1, which is the account of Jesus. John makes it clear that Jesus is not just a man; He is the eternal Son of God. He is the light of the world because He offers this gift of eternal life to all mankind. John discloses Christ's identity with his very first words, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning."

Following worship we enjoyed a fabulous 5th Sunday feast. The children and youth then spent the afternoon at River Valley Nursing Home.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Rick's message was from Luke 1:5-25 titled, "Fear and Doubt."

In the story of Zacharias, he doubted God. The angel had told him that his wife Elizabeth was to have a child. They were very old and had been praying for years to have a child, that is why he had doubt, but with God all things are possible.

God hears our prayers, He doesn't waver or change the Bible. When we stand before God are you sure about your salvation?

Ladies night out with Katie, 6 p.m. December 12.

Visit the Live Nativity, you will receive a blessing, Saturday, 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. December 13, and Sunday 5:30 p.m. December 14.

Pray for our country, the lost, the sick, those who have lost loved ones, and those that are on drugs.

FIRST BAPTIST

On this first Sunday of Advent, Abram and Becky Crozier lit the HOPE candle. Karen Crozier beautifully sang, "Let them see You in me," for special music.

Bro. Harry's message, "The Hope of Christmas", was taken from Luke. Hope for us began with the arrival of baby Jesus. He gives us hope for the burdens of our sins, hope for the present, and hope for the future. He gives us hope for eternal life with Him when our life is over.

Today we started collecting for the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. December 14, White Christmas will be at 7 p.m. at Falmouth Baptist Church. December 21, we will have candlelight services at our church at 6 p.m.

Pray for those seeking hope, love, peace and healing.

"If we keep Christ in our heart, Christmas has no end!"

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

Children's Moment was about being thankful and sharing today. Kathie gave each child a cookie. She asked them not to eat it until everyone had a cookie. As planned, one person did not get a cookie. He hollered "I didn't get a cookie. I want one too." One of the children immediately broke his cookie in half and shared with him. Children teach us so much and are very sincere. We adults need to learn from them.

Our music director Steve Work also led the worship service this morning. His topic was Revelation. Many of our life's lessons are a revelation to us and can be life changing events.

The Sunday evening young adults, with leaders Ken and April LeCrone, dined out tonight. They completed the evening with a trip to the Kentucky Horse Park to see the Southern Lights.

No one is in charge of your happiness but you.

MR. MORIAH

The first Sunday of Advent is about Hope. The candle was lit by David and Darcy Fields. Scripture reading was from 1 Corinthians 15:50-58. Brother Breeden shared a message about hope. Hope is a desire with high expectations of fulfillment. God came to give Hope, Colossians 1:5 hope is a heavenly treasure. We should all be looking for that treasure. Romans 15:4 says that we through scripture might have hope. Hope is a place of safety. Romans 8:24 We are saved by hope.

We added many to our prayer list this week including, the family of Shane Rose, David Dawson, Elly-Mae Sofranko, Lois Adamstall, Judy Hammond, Mike Ross, Jillian, our Military, and Jim Thacker.

We are really having a great time at group Bible study, Wednesday nights at 7 p.m., all are welcome. Sunday school at 10 a.m. service at 10:45. Please join us.

NEW HOPE

Why do some people miss Christ? Nearly 2,000 years ago there were a group of religious leaders that were told about the arrival of the Messiah. This should have been the most exciting news they ever heard since they were waiting hundreds of years for this Messiah to come. They did not see Him. Did they really not believe He was coming? Were they offended that God did not tell them? Were they too prideful to hear the wise men's testimony? Did they simply not care?

There are lots of people who claim to believe that there is a God, the Bible is true, and Jesus is the Messiah. Yet, they give Him very little time in their lives. Sometimes even religious people can miss Jesus. Do not be like them, give Jesus the proper time in your life.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship at 6:30 p.m. The CrossFire Crew meets on Wednesdays

"Glorious and majestic are his deeds, and his righteousness endures forever."

~ Psalm 111:3

at 6 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: We will meet at 4 p.m. December 13, for a trip to the Festival of Lights. December 14, there will be a Christmas program during the morning worship service. December 31, at 8 p.m. there will be a New Year's Eve party (Don't forget to get your music request to Mickey).

Psalms 139:14 (I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvelous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.)

Please remember in prayer Janet Bishop, John Thomas, Hannah Perkins, Tina Cochran, Helen, Cheyanne Douglas, Jeanetta Downard, Becca Darling, Carla Hamilton, Mable Fields, Pat Webster and the Rose family. Also remember to pray for our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

"All I Want for Christmas is a GPS Unit" was the title of our message. God is our GPS. He gives us guidance through His Word, the Holy Spirit, and other Christians.

Church board meeting is December 11, 7 p.m.

Our choir will be presenting a musical, "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year," on the morning of December 21. We plan to go caroling that afternoon.

Our prayer concerns include Eli Stahl (surgery 17th), Woodie Smith, Albert Hughes, Larry Clemons, Scott Collins, Matt Wolfe, Wilma Penny, RoseMary Ramsey, Brittany Francis, Lowell Thomas, Phil Wiggins, Flora Lena McClanahan, Dan Pence, Marge Logan, Pat Ray, shut-ins, armed forces, cancer issues, and our leaders. Our sympathy goes to the loved ones of Bill Whaley and Mrs. Marge (Bro. Wayne) Smith and Ed Goehring.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Bro. Rick's message was from Psalms 37:4.

Delight yourself also in the Lord, and He shall give you the desires of your heart.

Has your experiences with God been a delight or a duty? When viewed as a duty most people slip away from their churches. If you tolerate sin and disobedience in your life your being robbed of the delight the Lord has to give.

How do you delight yourself in the Lord? Do you please God with your decisions? Discover His goodness and love? If you belong to the Lord; reverence Him for everyone who does this has everything he needs.

God's promise is to never leave or forsake us. Are you keeping this promise too?

Evening Bible study 6 p.m.

PINE GROVE

Oh! What a beautiful Thanksgiving and so much to be thankful for.

Brother Ron's service was based on the book of Luke stressing the birth and life of John the baptist. How he was born to Elizabeth and Zechariah in their late years. The fact is that he was a very special child filled with the Holy Spirit and the forerunner for Jesus Christ.

We added the family of Roy Reed and Kathy Sharp to our prayer list. Deloris Strunk also needs our prayers.

Upcoming events include movie night December 6, at 6 p.m. food will be served prior to the movie. December 10, 4-6 p.m. the youth will practice for their Christmas program which will be presented during the morning worship service on December 14. A meal will follow in the basement.

As we progress into the Christmas season making our family plans, just remember that we are observing the birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ.

TRINITY

I AM is holding on to you, I AM is drawing close to you, thank God for the great I AM. What a meaningful song that goes right along with the sermon series that has been preached for the last few weeks. The great I AM, scripture: John 11:17-27 talks about "I AM the resurrection and the life." Stand firm in the truth. The great I AM is there offering protection and love to those who choose to accept. When death comes a knocking on your door, will you be ready?

With the start of the holidays, the Advent candle was presented as part of the children's sermon and how the first candle represents the prophets.

Thanks to the choir for their special, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

The final count is in for our annual Thanksgiving dinner and we were blessed to have served 373 meals this year. All glory goes to God.

TURNER RIDGE

Sunday, November 30, the Wessel family lit the Advent candle of hope. This light reminds us that Jesus is the light of the world that comes into the darkness of our lives to bring newness, life and hope.

This was followed by receiving the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering, a time when you can bring your offering and place it in the manger with the hopes of spreading the word of Jesus across our nation.

During the children's message "What is Advent?" Bro. Dale showed the kids an Advent calendar and explained how it was used. Morgan Sorrell read scripture Acts 1:8 and the Hand Bell Choir had special music.

Nov. 30 - Dec. 7, is week of prayer for International Missions, each day there is a prayer request from a missionary concerning the area and the people they are working with. Wednesday, December 17, we will have our International Mission Study, plan now to attend.

Standard Rider for Excess Facilities – Rider EF
Customer shall pay for excess facilities by:
	Current	Proposed
(a) Making a monthly Excess Facilities charge payment equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities times the following percentage:
Percentage with No Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction	1.24%	1.24%
(b) Making a one-time Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities plus a monthly Excess Facilities Charge payment equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities times the following percentage:
Percentage with Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction	0.48%	0.48%
Net Metering Service – Rate NMS
Company proposes text changes to the definition of "Billing Period Credit" to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Company further proposes text changes to the Metering and Billing section to clarify how the Company accounts for billing period credits for customers taking service under time-of-day rates.

Standard Rider for Redundant Capacity Charge – Rider RC
	Current	Proposed
Capacity Reservation Charge per Month:	(Per kW/kVA)	(Per kW/kVA)
Secondary Distribution	$1.49	$1.12

Secondary	$12.54	$12.84
Primary	$11.99	$11.63
Transmission	$10.84	$10.58

Also, Company proposes text changes to the Minimum Charge provision to clarify that for a Rider SS customer, Company will bill the customer monthly for all of the charges under the customer's applicable rate schedule, including, but not limited to, the applicable basic service charge, energy charges, and adjustment clauses. In addition to those charges, Company will bill the customer monthly a demand charge that is the greater of: (1) the customer's total demand charge calculated under the applicable rate schedule; or (2) the demand charge calculated using the applicable demand rate shown above applied to the Contract Demand.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS
Availability of Service:
Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities and is of such nature to require:
1.	only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
2.	where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.
This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes.
Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:
1.	Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
2.	the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
3.	where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer's equipment.
This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Standard Rate for Low Emission Vehicle Service – Rate LEV
Current
Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75
Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297
Proposed – This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company's outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers' input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider – Rider EDR
Company proposes changes to Rider EDR's Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer's billing in any billing month in which the customer's metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

Meter Test Charge
Current Rate	$75.00
Proposed Rate	$75.00
Disconnecting and Reconnecting Service Charge

Proposed Rate:
$15.00 per month per installed set of pulse-generating equipment

Customer Deposits
Current Rate:
For Customers Served Under Residential Service Rate RS:	$135.00
For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$220.00
For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer's actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.
Proposed Rate:
For Customers Served Under Residential Service Rates RS, RTOD-Energy, and RTOD-Demand:	$160.00
For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$240.00
For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer's actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.
Terms and Conditions – Customer Responsibilities
Adding the following provision that could result in a charge to certain customers:
Changes in Service
Where Customer is receiving service and desires relocation or change in facilities not supported by additional load, Customer is responsible for the cost of the relocation or change in facilities through a Non-Refundable Advance.

Terms and Conditions – Budget Payment Plan
Current:
Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer or general service customer. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.
Proposed:
Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include the addition of a section on Company as a Federal Contractor, meter placement, proposed clarifications on terms and conditions specific to residential electric service, and expanded options for the Company to provide written notice for discontinuance of service due to nonpayment or non-compliance.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com.

The foregoing rates reflect a proposed annual increase in revenues of approximately 9.6% to Kentucky Utilities Company.

The estimated amount of the annual change and the average monthly bill to which the proposed electric rates will apply for each electric customer class is as follows:

Electric Rate Class	Average Monthly Usage (kWh)	Annual $ Increase	Annual % Increase	Monthly Bill $ Increase	Monthly Bill % Increase

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Kentucky Utilities Company; however, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice.

Notice is further given that any corporation, association, body politic or person with a substantial interest in the matter may by written request, within thirty (30) days after publication of the notice of the proposed rate changes, request to intervene. The request shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, P. O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request, including the status and interest of the party. Intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown, however, if the Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of initial publication, the Commission may take final action on the application. Any person who has been granted intervention may obtain copies of the application and any other filing made by the utility by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Vice President – State Regulation and Rates, Kentucky Utilities Company, c/o LG&E and KU Energy LLC, 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314.

A copy of the application and testimony shall be available for public inspection at the office of Kentucky Utilities Company, 100 Quality Street, Lexington, Kentucky.

A copy of the application and testimony shall also be available for public inspection at the offices of the Kentucky Public Service Commission located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the commission's Web site at <http://psc.ky.gov>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

A copy of this Notice and the proposed tariff, once filed, shall also be available for public inspection on Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com, or through the Public Service Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>.

Wrapping up Christmas 4-H fundraiser event

The 4-H Junior Livestock Committee for Pendleton County is having a "Wrapping Up Christmas" fundraiser event on Saturday, December 13, 2014 from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. This is a two-fold event.... Here's how you can help and also be helped!!

Just bring your UNWRAPPED presents to the Pendleton County Extension Office at 45 David Pribble Drive and let the magic happen! This event is donation based only ~ so you pay what you can afford!!! You can trust that this bunch of respectful and eager 4-Her's will set you up and get you ready to put your presents under your tree! Paper and pretties will be provided!

They will also be selling hot chocolate and goodies! They are trying to raise money for the 4-H Livestock Showman. The 4-H Junior Livestock Committee consists of the following members: Kaylen Greene, Lydia Gosney, Macey Wright, Zach Wyatt, JD Daugherty, Abigail Daugherty and Jacob Wolfe.

Even if we do say so ourselves ~ they are a great group of kids!

Managing diabetes during the holiday season

A healthy diet is so important to controlling and minimizing the effects of diabetes, but eating healthy can be a struggle and challenge for some people with diabetes, particularly those who have been recently diagnosed with the disease. The upcoming holidays pose additional challenges and present more temptations.

If you have diabetes and you eat a moderate amount of foods that are high in nutrients and low in fat and calories, then eating during the holidays should be no different from the way you eat every day. If you do not eat this way, then try to create daily, healthy eating habits before the holidays begin. These habits should include consuming a well-balanced breakfast, fruits and vegetables in a variety of colors, whole grains and a variety of lean proteins in the appropriate portion size.

During the holidays, most people have the tendency to go overboard with desserts, because they are at every function and these treats are available in large quantities. Desserts often contain few nutrients and are heavy in carbs and fat that can quickly raise your blood glucose levels. Healthier options include eating fruit for dessert, splitting a dessert with someone, removing high-fat whipped topping and frosting from desserts and eating fewer carbohydrates during the main course so you can have a small dessert.

You can reduce the amount of sugar in many holiday dishes by making healthy adjustments to your recipes. Use vanilla or cinnamon as a sugar substitute in recipes. Unsweetened applesauce or sugar-free syrups can be used in place of regular syrup. You can also try using fresh fruit or fruits canned in their own juices rather than fruits canned in heavy syrup.

For more information about gaining control of your diabetes or extension program offerings for diabetics, contact the Pendleton County office of the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service.

Facts about Poinsettias

Poinsettias are synonymous with the holiday season. Their bright red, pink or white leaves are beautiful as standalone plants or as components of bigger holiday displays. It may surprise many to know that in their native climate, this subtropical plant can grow to lofty heights of more than 10 feet. In the United States, poinsettias are grown as indoor potted plants, most in heated greenhouses.

The person responsible for bringing poinsettias to the United States was Joel Roberts Poinsett. He was a botanist, physician and the first U.S. ambassador to Mexico. December 12, is officially Poinsettia Day and marks the 1851 death of Poinsett.

Growers cultivate more than 100 varieties of poinsettias, but red plants are still the most popular. Contrary to popular belief, poinsettias are not poisonous. The plant was cleared of this charge by the National Poison Center and the American Medical Association. A study at Ohio State University found that a 50-pound child would have to eat more than 500 leaves to have any harmful effect. However, the leaves have an awful taste, so you probably don't want to make them part of your salad. It's still a good idea to keep pets away from the plants, because consuming them can cause digestive upset.

More than 34 million poinsettias are sold each year, accounting for about a quarter of the sales of all flowering potted plants. Even though that's about $144 million worth, production is a high-risk venture that has significant start-up costs and requires demanding labor and management. Growers must have a heated greenhouse structure. You can use tobacco greenhouses, but poinsettia production in late summer can compete with labor for tobacco harvest, housing and stripping.

The profit margin for most poinsettia growers is very low because of the highly competitive marketing environment of wholesale and retail markets like local garden centers, florists and grocers, roadside stands, farmer's markets, fundraisers and direct sales from the farm. Another consideration is the short sale window of about six weeks beginning in early November. Nevertheless, many growers see a value in producing a crop of poinsettias, because they allow for spreading capital investments over the whole year versus having the greenhouse sit idle during late summer and fall.

Growers who cultivate multiple varieties can distinguish themselves a bit from the competition and have a market advantage.

For more information on poinsettias or other horticulture topics, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

The above description in accordance with a survey made by W. Thomas Leach with Hicks & Mann, Inc. on the 18th of July, 2003.

Subject to easements, restrictions, and covenants of record.

Being the same property conveyed to Amber Jones, A single woman, from Michael Overman, a single man, by deed dated August 8, 2005 and recorded on December 1, 2005 in Deed Book 274, Page 493, Pendleton County Clerk's office.

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $80,777.54 together with interest at the rate of 5.5 percent per annum from the above date until paid plus late charges, advances for taxes and insurance, and its costs herein expended, including a reasonable attorney fee of $1,700.00 and for any other fees expended for services performed in connection with the defendant's default and for the purposes of protecting Plaintiff's interest in the property and its rights under the mortgage instrument.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property;
b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Time and money saving holiday gift ideas

The holiday season is here. Amid decorating your home, planning holiday parties and baking cookies for Santa, you might find yourself with very little time (and cash) for holiday shopping.

Luckily, the savings experts have a few gift ideas that are easy and fun to get you in the spirit this year.

DIY Canning Jar Recipes

For an affordable and personable gift, try picking up a bag of cookie mix, a one dollar canning jar, ribbon, and a holiday gift tag. Place the cookie mix inside the canning jar, decorate with a ribbon and attach the directions for preparing the cookie mix on the holiday gift tag. With endless choices for cookie flavors, decorative gift tags and ribbons, you can create a one-of-a-kind and tasty gift for all of your friends, teachers and service providers.

Gift Cards

If you've ever struggled to find a gift for someone that has everything, consider giving a gift card. Dress it up with a one dollar ornament or let your kids make a handmade holiday card for a unique twist. While the recipient enjoys choosing their own gift, you can celebrate with the time you saved!

Auto-Renewal Options

Give the gift that keeps on giving this holiday season by signing your friends and family up for auto-renewal items from a discount retailer. You can schedule items like diapers, paper and cleaning products, coffee and more to be delivered on a weekly or monthly basis. This way, you can keep the spirit of the holidays going all year long by providing convenient and helpful products to those who mean the most to you.

This season, giving meaningful gifts doesn't mean you have to spend a lot of time or money.

The Amish Cook serves up delicious dishes

Greetings of love and cheer to everyone from our home to yours. It is Thanksgiving morning! Our house is very quiet right now. All I hear is the clock ticking and the coffee perking. A fresh layer of snow covers everything outside. Thanksgiving Day reminds us to be thankful for all our blessings. This morning I am also thankful that God can bring beauty and blessings out of the hard times in life. Life is real as you know and sometimes we face "bumps" and things that aren't so pleasant. Yet God uses those times to make us aware of our need for Him and He specializes at being there for us and giving us peace. Praise His name on this beautiful Thanksgiving Day!

I am filling in for Gloria this week. Daniel's sister Mary had been helping them out for several weeks which was so nice. How she worked! Plus she helped with Julia and Austin, too. Austin looks more and more like his big sister Julia. On Tuesday, Daniel and Mary traveled to Ohio and surprised Daniel's parents. They are planning to enjoy Thanksgiving dinner with them yet before returning home. Gloria has been enjoying cards and notes from her column readers. One of the blessings I'm thankful for right now is the blessing of friends and relationships not only for friends and family around us, but for those who touch our lives at one time or the other like you have been touching Daniel and Gloria's lives. It seems we ladies especially thrive on relationships. One of my sisters told me recently that the ladies of their church gathered at her house for breakfast. Not only did they enjoy breakfast together, they also had a time of sharing. She said, "We laughed together and we shed tears together." I have a feeling every lady went home being blessed and refreshed.

My parents who live 400 miles away in Ohio are planning to come to our home for the weekend. So I've been cleaning, planning menus and fixing food. For one meal we want our married children to come home and spend time together as a family with my parents here. Daughter-in-law Regina is preparing another meal for "Ohio Grandpas," David and I, and our four children at home yet. That reminds me of another thing I am thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day: our wonderful in-law children. They mean so much to David and I!

Tonight some of David's family are gathering together at his parents home for an early supper, then an evening of fellowship and games. It will be more of a "lite" meal of soup and breadsticks. And vegetables and dip topped off with Grandma's pies.

PECAN PIE

I am making a bowl of chili today to take along tonight. I found a chili recipe that I just love. It has detailed instructions including exact amounts of seasonings to put in which makes it so handy to stir together. I use venison instead of hamburger. Our freezer wouldn't even "recognize" hamburger. It's not that I wouldn't prefer hamburger (I do) but with all the venison and turkey meat we have I don't need to buy hamburger.

I want to share Grandma's pecan pie recipe. It's the recipe we used for Daniel and Gloria's wedding meal.

Ingredients:

- 3 eggs
- 2/3 cup white sugar
- 1/2 cup pancake syrup
- 1/2 cup clear corn syrup
- 1/3 cup melted butter
- 1 cup pecans

Directions:

Stir together with a wire whisk and pour into one unbaked pie shell. Bake at 350° until done.

Gloria will return next week, she is taking another week off to spend with her husband and newborn son, Austin, who joins big sister, Julia, age 3. Readers with culinary or cultural questions for Gloria can write: The Amish Cook, PO Box 157, Middletown, OH 45042.
